DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions, which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-7, 10-11 and 13-18, drawn to a nucleic acid molecule capable of binding to an envelope glycoprotein of an enveloped virus, wherein the binding results in neutralization of the virus.

Group II, claims 8 and 9, drawn to a method for screening for potential therapeutic targets.

Group III, claim 12, drawn to a method for treating HIV infection by administering a nucleic acid of Group I.

The inventions listed as Groups I to III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The technical feature shared among the inventions listed as Groups I-III is a nucleic acid molecule capable of binding to an envelope glycoprotein of an enveloped virus, wherein the binding results in neutralization of the virus. The noted shared technical feature does not provide a contribution over the prior art, as evidenced by the teachings of Wyatt et al. Wyatt et al. teaches a phosphorothioate oligonucleotide that binds to HIV gp120 and inhibits infection. Hence, in the absence of a contribution over the prior art, the noted shared technical feature is not a shared special technical feature. Without a shared special technical feature, the inventions listed as Groups I-III lack unity with one another.

Further Restriction

If applicants elect Group I, applicants are further required to elect one of the 27 polynucleotide sequences listed in claim 5 (SEQ ID NO: 1-27) or, a combination of sequences. If Applicant elects a combination of sequences, Applicant must indicate specifically which sequences are in the combination. This is not a species election. Although the sequences share the function of binding to virus, the sequences do not share a common core sequence. For this reason, the sequences are not species of each other.

Each nucleic acid (and polypeptide) sequence is distinct from each other because they are structurally different and have different functions. A search for one sequence will not be commensurate in scope with a search for any other sequence. Each has different nucleic acid/amino acid content and varying lengths. A search for each sequence would be a serious search burden since each search is performed separately in the patent and non-patent databases.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
